Gilbert A. Livas
City Manager
The Healthy Downey/Stay Healthy campaign has established both the “people” infrastructure and the support services network to support long-term changes in residents’ health and fitness habits.

This past fiscal year, the Council determined that the one-time income of nearly $14 million due to the sale of city property should replenish the City’s depleted general fund reserves. In addition, the City garnered more than $21 million in grant project funding. Moreover, due to the Council’s respect and appreciation for the outstanding efforts of a smaller city staff working harder than ever, the City was able to develop a balanced budget that awarded the non-safety bargaining groups their first cost-of-living wage increase in seven years.

New events have engaged the public; new construction projects have given a face lift to numerous intersections and parks; new technology has increased transparency and efficiency. The “new” is exciting and attention-garnering. But in the Council’s wisdom, staff was directed to focus most of their time and talent, and taxpayer dollars, into the physical and personnel infrastructure that is the basis for the high quality of life for Downey residents. Fundamental services, such as pothole filling, the upkeep of landscaped medians, and water and sewer pipe maintenance, were emphasized. New personnel infrastructure was added, such as new canine officers, new police officer recruits, new ambulance operators, and new water and maintenance workers.

In 2012, the City Council established five enduring policy guidelines, which inform the Council’s Annual Goal-Setting, the formation of the City’s annual budget and the planning of public services for the fiscal year. This report, the second Annual Report on the Council’s priorities, encapsulates the hard work and accomplishments of City Council, staff, volunteers, residents and businesses.

I am appreciative of the Council’s guidance and support throughout this economically challenging fiscal year; despite the hardships, there are a tremendous number of accomplishments to celebrate. I would like to thank all City staff for their contributions to these accomplishments, and commend the Council on their vision.

Respectfully submitted,

Gilbert A. Livas

FISCAL RESPONSIBILITY

PRUDENT FINANCIAL PRACTICES

The City’s prudent financial practices include the implementation of all seven of the recommendations from the Independent Cities Association (ICA) to safeguard debt credibility and ratings. These recommendations include right-sizing the organization, changes in service delivery, program reductions, employee benefit concessions, reductions to employee benefit packages, deferring non-essential equipment replacement, and reduced General Fund capital costs. These measures and others have resulted in a FY 2014-2015 balanced budget that maintains available reserves at approximately $32 million.

SERVICE CONTRACTS & GENERAL FUND RESERVES

Additional fiscally sound practices have included the Council’s directives to issue new RFP/RFQs for all service contracts not renewed in the last 5 years and the placement into general fund reserves of most of the $34 million revenue received from property sales this year.

GOLF COURSE REFINANCING

$720,000 SAVINGS

This past year, the City Council refinanced the 2002 Certificates of Participation for the golf course, which will save the City up to $720,000 over the next 14 years.

ADMINISTRATIVE INTERN PROGRAM

The administrative intern program has been streamlined and a new inter-departmental intern exchange added to enhance the intern’s experience and provide staff support without incurring additional lost time due to training and onboarding.

REDEVELOPMENT SUCCESSOR AGENCY

Staff supporting the Redevelopment Successor agency have filed the necessary reports for the City’s HUD, CDBG, and HOME funds; and have assisted 25 low-moderate income households through the cost-saving, revamped Grant & Rebate program.

Quality of Life

Committed to the Community

There is a burgeoning movement in cities and towns across the nation to create “lovable cities” in which residents and businesses are committed to the community and to each other. Downey has always been a “lovable community” with traditions, gatherings, a sense of place, and a sense of purpose. But this feeling of community has intensified over recent years, as the recession has motivated folks to consider what truly matters, and what contributes to overall quality of life. The city’s branding program is the unifying language by which the community is brought together. Discover Downey, approved by the Council this fiscal year, encourages residents to rediscover what makes our City special, and invites outsiders to come experience all that the city has to offer.

Committed to Culture

Two million people enjoyed the cultural, recreational and educational offerings of the City’s Library, Civic Theatre, Columbia Memorial Space Center and City parks. Among the notable events was a partnership between the Downey Arts Coalition, the City and the Columbia Memorial Space Center which resulted in the production of the drama Defying Gravity exploring the events and emotions surrounding the 1986 Space Shuttle Challenger disaster. The City also welcomed local authors Tyler Dilts and Shaun Morey for an engaging literary discussion, while the Theatre hosted the Russian National Ballet and Al Jarreau.

Committed to Art

An increasing emphasis on community-building has galvanized the arts and cultural movement in the City, providing public support for the Stay Gallery, managed by the Downey Art Vibe, and for dramatic productions such as Defying Gravity, produced by the Downey Arts Coalition and hosted at the City’s own Columbia Memorial Space Center. The Art in Public Places pilot program is showcasing Downey’s history through murals on power boxes throughout the City.

Healthy Downey has become a sustainable coalition of advocates that are working to change the fabric of life, from promoting exercise and bike riding to air quality, mental health, nutrition, and education.

Downey Police Dispatch received 85,754 calls during the 2013-2014 fiscal year.
